About our verification process

The following shows the revision(s) made to your file as a result of our verification.

If you still question an item, then you may want to contact the source of the information personally.

The federal Fair Credit Reporting Act states that you may:

- request a description of how we verified the information, including the business name and address contacted and the telephone number; if reasonably available;
- add a statement disputing the accuracy or completeness of the information; and
- request that we send these results to organizations who have reviewed your report in the past two years for employment purposes or six months for any other purpose (twelve months for residents of Colorado, Maryland, and New York).

If no information follows, our response appeared on the previous page.

Your use of credit

The information listed below provides additional detail about your accounts, showing up to 24 months of balance history and your credit limit, high balance or original loan amount. Not all balance history is reported to Experian, so some of your accounts may not appear. Also, some credit grantors may update the information more than once in the same month.

Requests viewed only by you

You may not have initiated the following requests for your credit history, so you may not recognize each source. We offer credit information about you to those with a permissible purpose, for example, to:

- other creditors who want to offer you preapproved credit;
- an employer who wishes to extend an offer of employment;
- a potential investor in assessing the risk of a current obligation;
- Experian Consumer Assistance to process a report for you;
- your current creditors to monitor your accounts (date listed may reflect only the most recent request).

We report these requests only to you as a record of activities, and we do not include any of these requests on credit reports to others.
